FIFTY-NINTH DAY IN THE SENATE

GOVERNOR NOTIFIES SENATE OF A NUMBER OF BILLS HE HAS MADE LAW.

The Senate began proceedings on the 59th day of the session with a very short list of bills on the order of the day, being six House bills for third and four for second reading.

The list of recess appointments of election inspectors, made during the recess of the Senate was submitted by Governor Carter.

In the middle of the reading, Kalama broke in with a motion to defer the matter until tomorrow, but it was beaten and the reading continued. After its conclusion, action on the nominations was deferred on motion of Paris.

Secretary Atkinson sent notification that the governor had signed the following bills:

Senate bill 78, (Act 49) to provide for a Board of Immigration and defining its duties.

Senate bill 43, (Act 50), to amend sections 1610, 1613 and 1616 of the Revised Laws of Hawaii relating to commutation.

House bill 146, (Act 53) to provide one fire department for the towns of Wailuku and Kahului, one for the town of Lahaina, and one for any other town in the Territory where such department is properly organized under the provisions of this act.

Then followed the reading of the usual batch of communications from the House of its action on the preceding days. Among the bills sent up was Senate bill 48, which had been variously amended. The bill was referred to the ways and means committee, with instructions to report at 2 p. m.

Dickey from the revision committee returned Senate bill 141 as amended by the House and the Senate concurred in the amendments. Dickey also returned House bill 218, providing for expending held-up appropriations and in this was inserted an appropriation for a high school at Hilo.

Paris objected, and Dickey claimed the right for the committee to provide for putting a cupola on capitol at Washington, if it saw fit. The report went on the table to be considered with the bill.

The judiciary committee reported favorably on House bill 147, permitting attorneys in district courts to practice in circuit courts. Laid on the table to be considered with the bill.

The same committee reported favorably on House bill 203, and the report was adopted. The bill was then passed third reading.

The conference committee on House bill 225, regulating trust companies, reported permitting such companies to accept money on general deposit. The report was adopted on call of the ayes and noes, Hewitt and McCandless voting against it.

From the conference committee on the bill for the segregation of jurors during trial, Haystack reported in favor of the bill and the report was adopted, Dickey voting against it.

From the conference committee on House bill 188, Haystack reported favoring the passage of the bill. This is the bill providing for the issuance of certificates of Hawaiian birth, such certificates to cost 7.50. The bill passed.

Downsett moved reconsideration of the anti-trading stamp bill, House bill 160. The motion carried and the bill went on the order of the day.

House bill 189 relating to the taxing of foreign corporations was read for the second time and given to the committee of ways and means.

House bill 191 appointing a recess commission to revise the tax law was read for the second time and passed, the bill being amended to appropriate $2500 for the expenses of the commission, instead of $5000. The bill will be read for the third time on Wednesday.

The judiciary committee reported that the passage of House joint resolutions No. 9 would be tantamount to asking congress to amend the constitution of the United States, and recommended that it be tabled. The report was adopted. This is the Coelho citizenship resolution.

SPEED LIMIT IN SENATE

THE SOLONS OF THE UPPER HOUSE WRESTLE WITH HOUSE BILL TO INCREASE SPEED.

House Bill 225, amending the law regulating the speed of street cars, came up on second reading in the Senate and a motion to refer to the Public Lands Committee failed. Dickey moved to amend by making the passage dependent upon the approval of congress.

McCandless made a speech against the bill, accusing the Rapid Transit of lobbying and log-rolling to get the Senate to pass a bill that was unconstitutional.

"It is conceded by every person in this community," he shouted, "that the Rapid Transit has not kept its agreement with the people of this Territory—has withheld money that belongs to the Territory."

"Everybody in this community is a pretty sweeping statement," interrupted Bishop.

McCandless was proceeding to enter into the matter of the bond issues of the Rapid Transit Company and had to be called to order twice before he would get back to the speed issue, and when he did get back, he argued that the present speed limit was the proper thing. Half the foreign element here, he said, had never seen electric cars until they came here. A Chinese or a Japanese got on a car, touched a button and stepped right off with the result that he had a skinned face. Many had been killed by the cars, and while he made no fight for Chinese or Japs, still their lives were sweet to them, and they were needed in the Territory, all laborers were.

He said the legislature should not amend a franchise without the consent of Congress—or, if it did, an effort should be made to get a portion of the gross receipts of the Rapid Transit, say 21-2 per cent, in return for the favor.

He accused the Rapid Transit of hampering and ignoring the Superintendent of Public Works, and said he would insist upon an amendment calling for a percentage of the gross receipts of the company. And then he moved that the bill be indefinitely postponed. Woods seconded the motion, pending which Achi said that there was no need to refer the matter to Congress, as suggested by Dickey.

The Dickey motion to amend was lost, and so was the McCandless motion to postpone indefinitely.

Then McCandless moved an amendment to make the speed limit 10 miles an hour within the city of Honolulu, 14 miles outside, 4 miles on switches and turn-out, and 2 miles while passing Thomas Square; also providing that in case the Rapid Transit takes advantage of this concession, it shall pay the Territory 21-2 per cent of its gross receipts.

And he began to speak to his amendment, when Achi moved a recess until 2 p. m.

Concerning J. Richardson, the concertina expert, whose services have been retained for the coming ELK's minstrel show, the Cape Town-Arthur of January 19th, 1905, says:

Mr. and Mrs. J. Richardson left Kimberley by Tuesday evening's train for Cape Town en route to New Zealand by the Rimutaka, carrying with them the good wishes of their numerous friends.

Mr. Richardson bears with him a delightful souvenir, typical of South Africa, which was presented to him the other evening by the Diamond Lodge, R. A. O. B., in recognition of his services in connection with that Order.

In musical circles Mr. Richardson will be greatly missed as for many years his services have always been at the disposal of promoters of concerts or entertainments in aid of any charitable undertaking. He is undoubtedly the best amateur player of the concertina in the country and the pleasure he has afforded hundreds of people will not be readily forgotten.

DEATH OF OLD LOUIS A HILO CHARACTER

WAS THE CHAOS WHO FLED BETWEEN HILO AND COCOANUT ISLAND.

HILO, April 20.—Peter Louis, a Russian Finn, who has resided in Hilo for the past twenty years, died in his cabin near Coconut Island early yesterday morning. He was a sailor years ago but gave up the sea twenty-five years ago to settle in Hawaii. He spent a short time in Honolulu and then came to this island to work in different capacities on plantations. For a short time he was at Lamphohoe assisting in the landing of machinery for the plantation there. Twenty years ago he came to Hilo and for years past he has conducted a ferry from Kaimosi to Coconut Island. He has been a sufferer from stomach trouble and other ailments for a long time and a few years ago cataracts appeared on both eyes. One was removed but the operation was not a success and for that reason he has not been able to work much with his boat for several months. He was up town last week and drew his pay as a special police officer and then appeared as a witness in a case before Judge Hapai. He has not been in town since. On Tuesday Doctor Rice was called to attend him and found he had suffered a stroke of paralysis, one side being powerless. In the evening he called again and found he had sustained a second stroke. He was visited by several officers during the night and his wants, as far as he could make them known, attended to. He died early Wednesday morning and was buried yesterday, the sheriff providing the coffin for the purpose.—Hawaii Herald.

POLICE PERMIT TO RUN STILL

IT IS PLEADED IN BEHALF OF A JAP DEFENDANT AND MINIMUM SENTENCE RESULTS.

Oyama and Fukuda, charged with illicit distilling, the two Japanese who claim that their running of an illicit still was with the permission and advice of the Deputy sheriff of their district, were up before Judge Dole this morning for sentence. Their attorney, Henry Hogan, made an appeal for clemency, both defendants having pleaded guilty.

Hogan said that the defendants were legally guilty but morally innocent. They had acted under the advice of the police officer of their district and naturally thought they had a right to do what he said they could do. They had also paid him for a license, said Hogan, according to their statements. Both defendants had been frank with the court from the start, having admitted their acts, said Hogan. Oyama is the man who said he was innocent, though he did what the indictment charged because the police told him to.

Judge Dole imposed sentences and penalties which are the minimum under the statutes. The aggregate is seven months imprisonment and $1,100 fines each. Other charges against the two defendants were nolle prossed.

Yoshimura, charged with adultery, who pleaded guilty several days ago, was sentenced to six months imprisonment.

VETOES THE LEPROSY BILL

GOVERNOR CARTER WRITES A VIGOROUS MESSAGE POINTING OUT THE EVILS OF THE BILL.

The Governor this morning sent the following veto to the legislature. It affects the amendments to the segregation laws known as House bill No. 176. The veto is as follows:

"To the Legislature of the Territory of Hawaii. Herewith, I return House bill No. 176, entitled 'An Act Amending Sections 1122 and 1124, Chapter 94, of the Revised Laws of Hawaii, relating to Leprosy Settlement and Hospitals, and adding a new section thereto,' which I am unable to approve.

"It is unfortunate that extreme legislation of this character on this subject should be precipitated at this time. Congress has seen fit to pass an appropriation of $125,000 for the establishment of a hospital at Molokai, with the object of studying the disease; and that this work will be vigorously pushed is shown by the latest advice from Dr. Wyman, United States Surgeon-General, and head of the Quarantine and Marine Hospital Service. He states that already preliminary plans have been discussed, and that he expects to arrive here in the latter part of next month.

"I recognize that this subject is an exceedingly sensitive one with our body politic—one in which there is constant agitation. Formerly it was argued that the examination made by which suspects were pronounced lepers was incomplete without a bacteriological test. Provisions was made at an increased expense to provide this test, and the request granted. Since then, naturally, the result of the bacteriological test has been a potent factor in determining the existence of leprosy.

"It now appears that the present method of examination is not satisfactory. It is contended that liberty no longer exists, from the fact that the present law allows for an arrest if it is alleged that the person has leprosy, and in some cases this might have been done with malicious intent.

"By the proposed Act it is intended to provide a combination of a medical examination and a court trial. Arrests are to be no longer made of alleged cases of leprosy but a citation or sort of civil summons is to issue to persons suffering with leprosy, who shall be deemed capable of spreading the disease, to appear before a board of five physicians, all of whom must be present, for the purpose of an examination to determine whether or not the person is suffering from leprosy and is capable of spreading the disease.

"It is clear that it will be impossible to issue a citation to determine a fact, when the fact must be determined before the citation can issue. The District Magistrate has no discretion in the matter. He can only issue the citation to a person suffering with leprosy. If he should take the statement of a witness and issue a citation, the attorney for the person cited could at once attack the same, claiming no desire or intent to disobey it, but simply that it was not legally proven that his client had leprosy, and, therefore, that the citation was issued contrary to law.

"It is true that there has been little or no effort on the part of the Territory to thoroughly study the disease, or to provide a hospital for the treatment of suspects. The revenues of the Territory have not warranted any such expenditure. If increased appropriation can be made, the legislature would far better by providing for a second physician at the Settlement. The care of a thousand patients is almost too great for one man.

"Again, if the money is available, it seems only just and fair to make provision for the proper buildings, etc., for a suitable home for the male, as well as the female, children of leprosy parents. The self-sacrificing work of the sisters of St. Francis in the care of girls born of leprosy parents, and the fact that so few of the latter have shown any evidence of the disease, creates the impression that possibly it may not be hereditary. In any event, it would seem only right to either segregate the sexes at the Settlement, or provide a home where all children born of leprosy parents can be reared free from all contamination.

"There are other minor objections to the bill, such as the provision by which all those who are confined in the hospital for the treatment of suspects can be examined at intervals of not less than once a year. Thus even if the patient and the Board of Health are both anxious for an examination, to show that the disease has been abated, while such an examination could take place, it would be, under this provision, without legal significance or effect.

"This bill simply takes away all power and control in reference to this matter from the board of health, and practically prevents segregation.

"Legislation of this nature illustrates what radical action may be anticipated if this subject is left permanently with the voters and lawmakers of the Territory.

"I would not be true to the best interests of those who suffer from this disease or of the Territory of Hawaii if I signed this bill or aided in its passage.

"G. R. CARTER,
 "Governor."
 Executive Chamber, April 24, 1905.
 Action on the Governor's veto in both House and Senate was deferred.

LISTLESSNESS IN THE HOUSE

FEELING THAT SESSION IS PRACTICALLY ENDED AND NOTHING REMAINS BUT SLAUGHTER.

There was an air of listlessness about the House of Representatives this morning for all seemed to feel that the session was really past and that little remained to be done save the interment of slaughtered innocents in the shape of bills killed before they matured.

The vote of Governor Carter on the Leprosy bill was read through and action on it deferred.

The Conference Committee on the act authorizing the issue of certificates of Hawaiian birth reported in favor of charging 7.50 for the certificates, thus splitting the difference. The House had favored a $5 fee and the Senate $10. The Conference Committee on the act relating to trial jurors recommended the passage of the bill striking out the Senate's amendment providing that "economy shall be exercised" when jurors are segregated. Both bills passed third reading as amended.

Secretary Atkinson notified the House that the Governor had signed the following:

House Bill 180 to amend Section 2693 Revised Laws of Hawaii.

House Bill 45, in relation to suits on open accounts.

House Bill 146, to provide one fire department for Wailuku and Kahului, one for Lahaina and one for any other town where such department is properly organized.

The Conference Committee on Harris' bill to regulate trust companies (House Bill 125) reported in favor of reinserting in the bill a subdivision to allow such companies to accept money on general deposit and hold the same subject to draft or otherwise. The report was adopted and the bill passed third reading.

The House adopted the Senate's amendment to House Bill 220, striking out the section which imposed imprisonment in lieu of fine.
